6. ACADEMIC PROGRAMMES

A) Consortium of National Law Universities (Prof. Faizan Mustafa, Vice-Chancellor, NALSAR as President)

The Consortium of National Law Universities was established on August 19, 2017 with the aim of improving the standard of legal education in the country and justice system through legal education with Prof. R. Venkata Rao, erstwhile Vice-Chancellor, NLSIU as President and Prof. Faizan Mustafa, Vice-Chancellor, NALSAR, as Vice-President. During the year under report, Prof. Faizan Mustafa was elected as the President of the Consortium.

Besides conducting the admission test for the graduate and post-graduate programmes of the participating National Law Universities (NLUs), the Consortium aspires to facilitate better coordination amongst NLUs to achieve highest standards of legal education in the country. Twenty-One National Law Universities have joined the Consortium as founder members.

Under Prof. Mustafa's Presidency, on October 17, 2018, a permanent CLAT Secretariat was established at Bangalore. The Consortium became the legal entity by registering itself at Bangalore under the Karnataka Co-operative Societies Act on March 26, 2019.

Some major decisions about CLAT-2019 were taken by the Consortium during October, 2018. Keeping in view that in last few years there have been glitches due to the fault of the service provider in the conduct of the online CLAT examination, the CLAT Consortium decided to conduct CLAT-2019 Off-line. A permanent website of CLAT has been created and CLAT Secretariat has been functioning throughout the year from its permanent office in Bangalore. In the LL.M. admission test, some subjective portion was included in 2019 PG CLAT. To improve the quality of the question paper of CLAT, the Consortium resolved to create a question bank to which experts from all the NLUs and other institutions would be asked to contribute.

The Consortium also decided to hold a workshop in collaboration with NAAC and UGC on evolving objective parameters for the accreditation of NLUs by NAAC and other accreditation agencies.

In October, 2019 meeting, Consortium took several historic decisions. The Consortium decided that the CLAT – 2020 will change the pattern of the questions for the UG admission test. The idea of CLAT is to get better students to National Law Universities who have competence in reading texts and demonstrate skills in inferential reasoning. It was resolved to reduce the number of questions from 200 to 120-150 questions. The Consortium felt that asking students to answer 200 questions in 120 minutes is not right as it puts students under lot of mental stress. Prof. Mustafa has been raising this issue in earlier CLAT meetings as well. The exam will remain off line and the duration will be two hours even for 120 or 150 questions. Comprehension based questions would be asked from Quantitative Techniques, English, Current Affairs, Deductive Reasoning and Logical Reasoning.

Similarly, the PG Admission Test will also have comprehension-based questions. The descriptive portion will remain same as last year. The Consortium has authorised the Executive Council of CLAT–2020 to study the possibility of introducing cut off marks for the LL.M.

The Consortium also resolved to undertake several Faculty Development Programmes in various member NLUs and launch a scheme of Scholarship / Fee Concessions for the students of NLUs. The Consortium would also assist the member NLUs in upgrading their library, IT facilities and other infrastructure.

NALSAR as President of Consortium therefore contributed to bring in major changes in the conduct of CLAT and in better co-ordination and co-operation amongst all National Law Universities.

B) Review of Clinical Programmes

A Committee consisting of the following members to suggest measures for improving the Legal Aid Clinics of the University was constituted by the Vice-Chancellor:

1. Prof. Neta Ziv, Academic Director, The Israel Affordable Housing Center and the Housing, Community and Law Clinic at Faculty of Law, Tel Aviv University - Chairperson
2. Prof. Amita Dhanda, Professor of Law, NALSAR
3. Prof. K. Vidyullatha Reddy, Professor of Law, NALSAR
4. Prof. N. Vasanthi, Professor of Law, NALSAR
5. Mr. P. Ashwini Kumar, Assistant Professor, NALSAR

The report prepared by the Committee was considered by the IQAC and after detailed deliberations in the IQAC, the recommendations made by the Committee were sent to the Academic Council and Executive Council of the University for their approval. The recommendations include:

- The existing Clinical Courses which are offered as mandatory will now be offered as taught courses. The Moot Clinic will be offered for 2 credits.
- The mandatory Clinic papers will now have 14 credits instead of 16 credits as per the following scheme:
- I Year : Moot Court Clinic (2 credits) over two semesters;
- IV Year : Legal Ethics and Accounting (3+1 – 4 credits)

- IV Year : ADR (4 credits)
- IV Year : Drafting, Pleading, Conveyance (4 credits)
- The elective clinics proposed under new scheme will have a class size of 20 students and would be taught over two semesters with the total of eight credits as their work cannot be completed in the short duration of one semester.

The Academic Council and the Executive Councils of the University at their meetings held on March 1, 2019 and March 16, 2019 considered the report submitted by the Committee for improving the Legal Aid Clinics of the University.

The IQAC, Academic Council and the Executive Councils approved the suggestions made by the Committee. The Academic Council has also recommended that the University should develop the parameters for evaluation of the proposed elective clinics as the students work outside the supervision of the teacher like paralegals. It was further suggested that the University may have collaboration with State Legal Services Authority and NGOs to allot work to the students under the Clinics. University may also think of having Start-up for Entrepreneurs as one of the practical Clinic. The works undertaken by the students under the clinics should be pro bono. It was also suggested that the University may conduct Faculty Development Programme to improve the skills of the Faculty for teaching the clinical courses.

Accordingly, the clinical programmes were revised and new clinics were introduced during the academic year.

11. LIBRARY

Library is spread across an area of 54,323 Sq. Ft. There is a separate enclosure with carrels for students. All the house keeping activities are automated and are powered by VIRTUA of VTLS Inc., and the Library has adopted Radio Frequency Identity (RFID) based solutions for its circulation, management, inventory and security systems. The students are provided with RFID equipped identity cards. The Library is also equipped with an Orientation Room with Projector, Discussion Rooms and Moot Court Rooms on the first floor. Information about various sections, resources, services and facilities is available at the Library Portal: <https://www.nalsar.ac.in/eLibrary>.

Acquisition

- Printed Books

There has been significant growth in the collection of printed as well as Electronic resources during the last year. The growth in the printed resources was largely due to astute participation of members of faculty and Library Committee and regular liaisons with the subject experts. By the end of this December, the collection of printed resources totalled to 41282 which includes the CJHR, CES, MBA, Bare Acts, bound back volumes of Periodicals and Donations . New accession during the year are 940. The Library expresses its gratitude for generous donations received about 184 books from its patrons Mr. P.Balakrishna Murthy, Tinatha Raju, NALSAR Faculty Members and students etc.

- MBA Library

There is a separate section for the MBA collection on the top most floor of the library. This floor is equipped with books on one side and reading tables and chairs on other side with sufficient ventilation and natural light.

- UN Collection

As a Depository Library of UN Collection, it has received substantial resources of major organs of UN. The collection of 462 books are housed in an exclusive location in the first floor.

- Print Journals and Electronic Resources

Library continued its renewal to Indian and International resources in print and electronic format which include Taxman, SCC Online, LexisNexis India, Kluwer Arbitration Law Online, Hein Online, Manupatra, Westlaw, JSTOR, J Gate database and Ezproxy softwares. In addition to the above E-resources, the University subscribed to Bar and Bench and EBC Reader (for disabled students). Apart from the renewal of the existing print format the university also subscribed to print Journals like AIR Power Journal, Defence and Diplomacy and Journal of Aerospace Sciences and Technologies.

- NEWS Papers

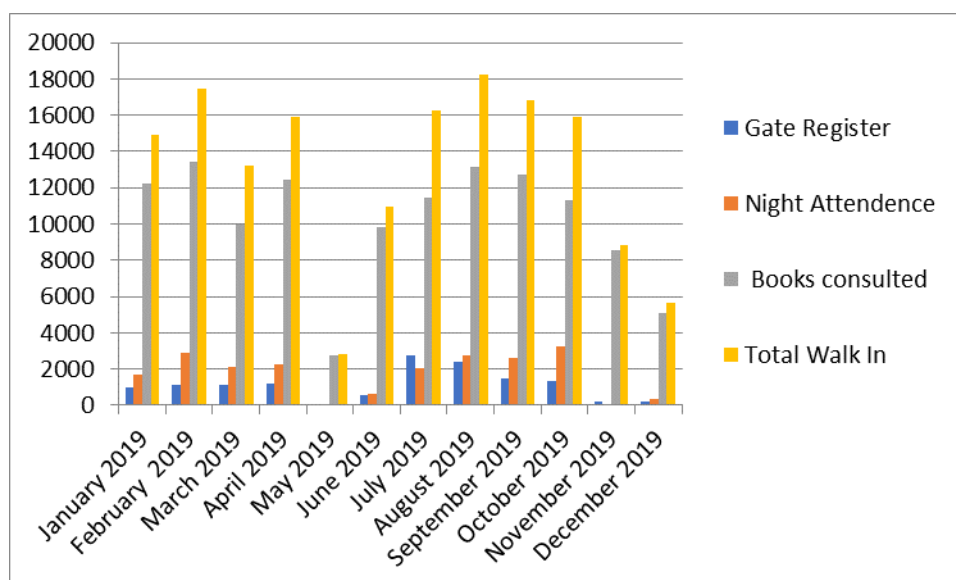

Apart from the above journals we are also procuring 15 News papers in three different languages (English, Hindi and Telugu). This year we included four news papers to our collection which includes Hans India, The Pioneer, Velugu, Daily Hindi Milap.

- Library Internal Meetings

Library internal meetings are held before starting of semester wherein we discuss about strengthening the library resources, the developments, pest control, changes to be done, Library timings, duties of staff and cleanliness in the library etc.

Additional Infrastructure provided in Library

- SELF CHECK (KIOSK) : A Self Check Station was procured from 2CQR in the month of August 2019, so that students can issue and return the books on their own.
- Printer/Xerox Machine: An additional printer cum photocopying machine was procured for the students in the Library as a standby and to reduce the rush in the peak hours.
- Computers: Three new computers were procured in the library for the staff.
- Disability access: A ramp was constructed adjacent to the library for the Disabled students.

12. IT INFRASTRUCTURE

Wi-Fi Upgraded:

To meet the increased demand which is due to the increase in number of admissions in various courses, the Wi-Fi was upgraded by adding another 24 access points and summing upto 108 access points into a single controller. This Wi-Fi upgradation was integrated with new sets of firewall routing and filtering policies which abides with NIC privacy infringement and copyright challenges. By this integration the total coverage of Wi-Fi in the campus is 70%.

Automation of Live Streaming:

Centralized live streaming console has been established with portable video encodes and cameras on roll and also upgraded our HD Cameras to UHD/4K Cameras and increase the quality of the video output to 2146 P resolution on both Vimeo, Facebook and YouTube.

e-Learning Studio

In order to the growing demand for visual e-content and visual e-learning materials we have established a state of art e-Learning Studio with multi camera setup for catering the requirements. The established e-Learning Studio develops contents by using ultra key VFX effects which integrates multimedia graphical content with teaching learning methodologies.

Digital Notice Boards

As part of digital initiatives all the standalone physical notice boards have been replaced by 55 inches digital display panels which are centrally connected to multimedia server. This facility enables for display of University events, activities, academic programme schedules, achievements of students and teachers. Being digital display panels different kinds of graphically driven digital contents shall be mounted and displayed seamlessly.

NALSAR YouTube Channel

Continuing the initiation of enhancing the digital presence of the University, the official YouTube channel bearing the name 'NALSAR University of Law' has been updated by uploading recordings of guest lectures as well as sessions that are part of conferences, workshops, training programmes. Some of the guest lectures were planned with the help of student groups. It must also be highlighted that the University also uploaded the recordings of the short courses taught by foreign experts. As of now, there are more than 600 videos available on this channel, with nearly 26000 subscribers and one million views. In the coming years, the University aims to upload more content which will help us in the dissemination of legal knowledge. (Centre Head : Prof. Faizan Mustafa, Vice-Chancellor)

National Conference on 'The Courts and the Constitution - 2018 in Review' on January 26 – 27, 2019

A National Conference titled 'The Courts and the Constitution – 2018 in Review' on January 26-27, 2019 was organised under the aegis of the 'Centre for Constitutional Law, Policy and Good Governance' and 'MK Nambyar SAARCLaw Centre for Advanced Legal Studies' at NALSAR in collaboration with the School of Policy and Governance, Azim Premji University, Bangalore and the editorial team of the 'Law and Other Things' Blog. This programme consisted of eight thematic sessions with a total of 24 invited speakers drawn from the judiciary, practitioners, academics and journalists. Full details of the programme are provided under the Centre for Constitutional Law, Policy and Good Governance.

Two-day Law and Religion Conference

NALSAR University of Law, International Center for Law and Religion Studies, Utah, USA and South Asia Consortium for Religion and Law Studies jointly organized a two-day Law and Religion Conference from February 29, 2020 to March 1, 2020 at NALSAR.

Supreme Court of India has finally decided the long pending Ayodhya case in November, 2019. It has also referred the Sabrimala issue to the nine judges' bench which will soon hear the matter. The court is reconsidering the whole essentiality test. The Court while pronouncing its order on the Sabrimala review, has also referred the issues of Muslim women's entry in mosques, of a Parsi woman who has married outside her community's right to attend funeral ceremonies, and of Dawoodi Bohra's female genital mutilation to this bench. The conference was organized to provide an important occasion to discuss these cases and the following sub-themes:

- a) Indian courts and religious property disputes—most notably, the Ayodhya Mosque case, but very possibly others.
- b) Access to sacred sites (temples, mosques and shrines etc.). This would involve the Sabrimala case and other cases in which secular courts have entered rulings about who is entitled to enter (or decide upon entry) into temples or other sacred sites. The Supreme Court is indeed reviewing Sabrimala judgment.
- c) Constitutional issues raised by the national register of citizens that make citizenship and rights claims hinge (either de jure or de facto) on the religious status of those seeking registration.
- d) Anti-conversion laws and case law addressing the constitutionality of such laws. The Supreme Court recently gave four weeks to centre on the petition of Dalit Christians. They are not extended the affirmative action or reservation benefits. The Presidential Order of 1950 is a clear case of discrimination solely on the basis of religion.
- e) An issue close to the foregoing two cases is the question raised by a case decided about a year ago that overturned denial of special Indian visa status to an individual of Indian descent who had been trained in the U.S., and had then returned to India to provide medical work, on the ground that he sometimes shared his religious beliefs with patients and others.
- f) Decisions regarding prayer or other religious observances in schools. On January 24, the Kerala High Court denied religious education even in private unaided non-recognized schools. In 2019, all central government funded schools were directed to have prayers in the schools. The matter is pending with the Supreme Court.
- g) The Triple talaq decision and other personal law issues. PILs are pending in the Supreme Court on polygamy etc.
- h) Other similar issues that raise law and religion and/or religious freedom questions.

Experts from different countries participated in the said conference. The details of the sessions conducted and the panelists include

D) Centre for Disability Studies

(Centre Head: Prof. Amita Dhanda, Professor of Law)

(Distinguished Research Fellow: Dr. Shilpaa Anand, Associate Professor, Dept. of Humanities & Social Sciences, BITS-Pilani, Hyderabad)

Dr. Shilpaa Anand has been appointed as Distinguished Research Fellow at Centre for Disability Studies at NALSAR. She has a Ph.D. in Disability Studies from the University of Illinois at Chicago and an M.A. in English from the University of Hyderabad. Her research interests include literary and cultural disability studies, historiography of disability and culturally different concepts of corporeality. In her doctoral work she explored the conceptual history of disability in the Indian context.

Having worked at different universities in Hyderabad since 2009, she has previously taught courses in literary theory and criticism, cultural studies, comparative literature, nineteenth century fiction as well as American literature. Her papers have been published in edited volumes on disability studies in India and South Asia as well as in scholarly journals. She moderates a lively email list called Disability Studies India and has co-edited multiple issues on disability of the web magazine Cafe Dissensus.

- 'Fostering Research in Disability' - Winter School conducted by both Centre for Disability Studies and BITS – Pilani, Hyderabad campus from December 16-21, 2019

A Winter School on 'Fostering Research in Disability', the first of its kind in India, was jointly organized by the Centre for Disability Studies, NALSAR University of Law, Hyderabad and Department of Humanities and Social Sciences, BITS-Pilani Hyderabad Campus from December 16 to 21, 2019. Prof. Amita Dhanda (NALSAR) and Dr. Shilpaa Anand (BITS) served as Program Co-ordinators. The week-long Winter School engaged with questions of disability with a special focus on voice, representation and participation of disabled people in law-making and cultural processes. Thirty participants were selected out of the 130 applications received in June. Winter School attendees included research scholars and early to mid-career faculty members from different parts of the country and abroad, researching in the fields of Humanities, Social Sciences and Law. About fifty percent of the participants were people with disability.

Resource persons included disability scholars from the disciplines of Law, Literature, Sociology, Social Work and Anthropology. Speakers appraised participants of significant developments in the field of disability research and introduced them to topics within the field which merit research such as: a) legal and cultural disability exclusions and inclusions- legally embedded and culturally enabled; discourses of human rights and social justice; c) 'voice' and 'representation' within disability studies scholarship. Few research programs in the country cater to researchers in disability studies while the application pool demonstrated that there is a steadily growing number of academics interested in the field. As a response to this situation, the Winter School on disability research has been proposed as an annual collaborative event between the two institutions.

 - Mr. Shree Rahul - Vagrancy and Beggary in India: A Socio-Legal Critique
- Co-hosted the 19th Basic Income Earth Network Congress from August 22-25, 2019 at NALSAR

The most significant activity undertaken was to co-sponsor the conclave of Basic Income Earth Network. The conclave was an opportunity for the University to reach out to scholars, activists, grassroot organizations in other parts of the country and the world to understand how the values vital to the project were being understood and executed by other individuals and organizations in other parts of the world. The project and its philosophy were shared with the delegates in a plenary panel which resulted in a number of delegates proactively reaching out to us. Thus, the strategy of proactively reaching out to likeminded scholars and activists launched in the first year of the project was further strengthened by having all the doctoral scholars attend the conclave and forge relevant scholastic connections. Julio Linares and Gabriela Cabana-Alvear - delegates at the Basic Income Conference – presented their paper on reimagining the nature of money as currency. Their approach to alternative economics and degrowth presented us with a huge learning opportunity and has inculcated an interest in the care economy and feminist economics among some of our scholars. Prof. Phillippe Van Parijs, one of the progenitors of basic income theory, was yet another contributor at the Conference who offered critical interventions, as one who has studied the political and economic theory underlying the basic income. They served as valuable reminders that advocacy for the universal basic income is a separate project from academic and empirical research that test the basic income in social contexts other than developed economies. Indeed, the former must be grounded in ethical research carried out in social contexts in the global south as well.

In order to advance the values informing the project the next generation was exposed to the values of care and cooperation. Consequently, an intensive course on basic income was offered at NALSAR by Prof. Phillippe Van Parijs. More than hundred undergraduate and post-graduate students attended the course. In addition, all the doctoral students sponsored by the project attended the course. The induction of these values in the course curriculum has helped in drawing us closer to the above stated outcomes.

I) Centre for Animal Rights
(Centre Head: Dr. Aruna B Venkat, Associate Professor of Law)
(Mr. Vivek Mukherjee, Assistant Professor, Co-ordinator, P.G. Diploma on Animal Protection)

Research Project on 'Farm Animal Protection: True Cost of Eggs Series' funded by HSI India

The animal protein production sector in India has undergone a paradigm shift in its structure and operation from being a mere backyard activity in most cases, into a major commercial agriculture-based industry over the period of four decades. In the west emerging research into the sector has shown that the environment, public health and animal welfare have suffered greatly because of industrialised animal husbandry. There is little to no research from Indian to highlight the animal welfare issues, negative externalities and public health cost associated with the rapidly growing sector. This series will shed light on some aspects of the sector by looking into the labour rights, animal welfare, public health issues associated with the egg production sector.

India ranks 3rd in the world in egg production according to Watt Executive Guide, 2015. Commercial poultry farming in India has created and still creating a profitable business opportunity for business runners. The demand for eggs in the market is never-ending but at what cost? Through this paper series you will see it is at the cost of people employed in these farms, at the cost of the environment, at the cost of the birds that supply these eggs, at the cost of the local/surrounding neighbourhood and last but not least at the cost of you! What are you consuming, where is it coming from and at what cost?

The first paper in the series will give an account of the labour rights violations in egg production facilities in and around Hyderabad. The second paper will focus on documenting the condition of birds in egg production in Telangana. The last two papers will highlight the environmental and public health issues associated with egg production because of the lack lustre regulatory environment in Andhra and Telangana. Telangana and Andhra are two regions where the bulk of India's egg production happens and thus grounding the research in the region would be Ideal.

This paper series aims to increase insight into the following:

- How the current system of battery cages and treating the birds as “production units” leads to immense harm not only to the birds but also to the labour and other humans in and around the poultry farms on a regular basis.
- How intensive confinement has an adverse impact on not only the animals but also causes a wide range of problems for our environment. The waste is released to our water bodies without any treatment. Our water and air quality are drastically compromised because of these industries. Studies have found that the workers of poultry farm report a more frequent occurrence of “headache, runny nose, sore throat, excessive coughing, diarrhoea, burning eyes, chest tightness.”
- The prevalence of child labour, bonded labour and other labour rights violation in the visited poultry industries.
- What are the immediate measures that the poultry industry would need to take in order to improve the working conditions and address the existent human rights violations?

Progress made

Labour Paper

- The paper has been written with insights gained from 25 field visits to egg production facilities.
- The paper is in the last stages of review and will be publication ready by 15th November.

Animal Welfare Paper

- The paper is being drafted with insights gained from 25 field visits to egg production facilities.
- 50% of the paper has been drafted and it should be ready for publication by 30th December.

Upcoming Tasks

Environment Paper:

- Studying the ecological risk associated with egg production through insights gained from 20 to 30 facilities.
- To study sustainable models of egg production to show a way forward for the sector.
- To produce a chemical and carbon footprint profile for eggs in two major cities (Hyderabad and Vizag).

Public Health Paper:

- Studying the Public health risks associated with egg production by building a health profile of people living in and near the facilities.
- To build a health profile of people living in zones where egg production is concentrated by partnering with public health agencies and local doctors.
- To produce a biological threat profile of egg production.

The conference saw participation from practitioners, academic, industry experts and students from various fields of study and work. The conference saw panel discussions and paper presentations. Each of the sessions examined a different angle to the overarching topic, addressing subthemes like Sociological Dimensions, Women's 21st Century Stories, Economics Through the Lens of Feminism, Women in Democracy. The objectives of the conference were: (i) to raise awareness among various stakeholders of the various issues specific to women's development, (ii) start a dialogue among stakeholders at various levels of the ways in which women's development will positively impact the development of the country, (iii) to attempt to identify various areas that need the attention of society and law-making bodies which will bring about the results aforementioned. The conference highlighted through its various sessions several facets of women's empowerment in India. It focused on the achievements of women, while also highlighting the specific challenges they continue to face. The conference emphasized that while violation of women's rights was certainly a violation of human rights, it is necessary to ensure that women's empowerment and advancement is not ignored if the development of the entire nation is to take place. The panelists, moderators, as well as student presenters all appeared to agree that the development of women cannot be the sole burden of the State and its instrumentalities, but must be the responsibility of society as a whole. Thus, the conference served as a platform to not only bring to light these issues, but also to start the dialogue on how to combat issues as a society.

22. STUDENTS ACCOMPLISHMENTS / ACHIEVEMENTS

A) Student Bar Council

During the year under report the Student Bar Council elections were held on August 8, 2019. Eleven functional Committees, viz., Academic; Alternative Dispute Resolution; Moot Court; Literary and Quizzing; Cultural and Fine Arts; Mess and Hospitality; Hostel and Campus Welfare; Debating; Sports; Social Responsibility and Student Welfare and the Board of Auditors were elected. The new office bearers for the year 2019 took oath of office on August 8, 2019.

The office bearers of the SBC for the year 2019-20 are Balaji Naik Azmeera (President), Joshi Sugosh Digambar (Vice-President), Rathod Uma Mahesh (General Secretary-Male), Sawant Hemali Sandeep (General Secretary-Female), Krishnanunni U (Joint Secretary-Male), Shagun Bhargava (Joint Secretary-Female) and R Kavipriyan (Treasurer).

B) Academic Committee:

During the year under report, the Academic Committee undertook the following activities:

- In collaboration with the student welfare committee, a scholarship committee to review the scholarship policy had been set-up. Representation was sent from the Academic Committee to the scholarship committee. Continuous deliberation and assistance is being provided by the Academic Committee. A major point among the latest changes made to the scholarship policy was to make it non-merit based and only depending on income level to make it more inclusive.
- An academic mentorship programme was set up for the first-year students. The mentors were appointed such that the students were given mentors who spoke a language they were comfortable with. The academic committee is reviewing the effectiveness of the programme through collecting feedback.
- The First edition of the IHL Competition was conducted successfully. The Organizing Committee for the 2nd International Humanitarian Law competition to be held in February 2020, was successfully set up. Rooted in the field of International Humanitarian Law, the competition intends to test the participants on their ability to understand real world conflicts, both from a legal and practical perspective. NALSAR is the first Indian University to host such an event. The proposition for the competition has been approved by the UNICEF. Participants in the competition will be screened on the basis of their knowledge in IHL and their CVs. Selected candidates will send in written submissions on a problem involving a fictional international conflict. Each team, of two or three members, will represent each of three sides, namely the government, non-state armed groups and the international community in their written submissions and their oral rounds, which will be held in a semi-formal, round-table format.

- The open challenge for the 33rd edition of the Jean-Pictet competition was successfully conducted by the Committee. The team comprising of Maitreyee Dixit, Dayaar Singla and Aashna Chowdhary cleared the Open Challenge for the 33rd edition of the Jean-Pictet competition. A total of 48 teams will be selected across the world and on selection the 33rd edition of the Competition will take place in Denpasar (Indonesia) from February 22-29, 2019.
- The Academic Committee is working along with the Editorial Board of the Volume XIII of the NALSAR Student Law Review for the release of the 2nd NALSAR Student Law Review Symposium on Law and Public Health.
- The academic committee is working with the IT department and the library to overhaul the library website to improve its user interface.
- The academic committee has created a list of books and e-resources worth Rs. 2.3 crore and has proposed to procure the same for the library.
- The academic committee has worked towards making reference material for mandatory courses more accessible by digitizing such materials.
- The academic committee has effectuated infrastructural improvements to the campus library. Additional plug points and LAN ports were installed, additional tables and chairs have been ordered and a breach between two moot court rooms was sealed.

D) Alternate Dispute Resolution Committee

The ADR Committee performed the following duties during the year under report:

- The committee successfully organised the official NALSAR Mediation Tournament, the first inter-collegiate ADR Tournament to be contemplated in NALSAR, one of the biggest mediation competitions in the country. Preparations are already underway to organize 2020's edition of the competition, and to make it the biggest and the best mediation competition in the country.
- The committee applied for slots at ICC Hong Kong Mediation Competition, and for the first time, for any national university, was allotted two slots in the prestigious competition.
- The Committee organised the Open Challenge for the ICC Hong Kong Mediation Competition, which involved the participation of four teams, and included a judgment on the written submission as well as on the simulated mediation. The Committee organised not only the judge for the same, but also the official mediator.
- The Committee applied for the ICC Paris Mediation Competition, and for the second consecutive time successfully secured a slot for NALSAR University of Law in the competition. The application process involved a multi-layered process of not only re-creating the NALSAR Student Achievement in ADR database which comprised of an updated version of all student achievements in ADR and Arbitration Activities, but also a detailed account of all the ADR related courses offered and taken by NALSAR Students over the course of the various student exchange programs, to ensure the most accurate representation of NALSAR's ADR potential.
- The Committee created and oversaw the organising committee for the conduction of the annual NALSAR Selection Mediation-Negotiation Competition, 2019 for the allotment of various domestic mediation & negotiation competitions, in which over 120 students participated.

- The committee organised the Annual Client Counselling Selections for the allotment of various domestic client counselling competitions, in which over 40 teams (80 students) participated).
- The Committee prepared the annual budget for ADR Activities, and created a new Sanctioning and Allotment policy to improve upon the previous years and provide for a more equitable allotment of competitions: such a policy, for instance, only allowed for preference to be given to Selection Teams for competitions officially mentioned in the Selection Pool so as to prevent confusion. The creation of the Sanctions Policy ensured that students are wary of the official withdrawal dates for open challenges and selection competitions, to ensure a smooth process and an equitable conduction of the various competitions.
- The Committee successfully organised the Open Challenge for ICC Paris, 2020 which involved the participation of over fifteen teams, and included the organisation of two highly esteemed judges and an official mediator.
- The Committee has organised numerous open challenges for domestic and international competitions, which require not only the drafting of a new problem (or a new set of confidential information) to ensure the best and most equitable experience for the participants, but has also relied upon a pool of qualified judges, while ensuring that issues of conflict do not arise in the process as well.
- The Committee successfully organised the Open Challenge for the CDRC Vienna Mediation Competition, 2020.
- The Committee has been consistently registering for international and domestic competitions, including INADR Toronto and The Negotiation Challenge, NUJS Mediation Competition, and the Brown Mosten Client Counselling Competition.
- The Committee organised a practice mediation session prior to the Selection Mediations to ensure maximised exposure.
- The Committee organised an introductory session for ADR for the first years, to ensure a maximised participation and interest in ADR.
- The Committee successfully organised the Open Challenge for the INADR, Toronto Mediation Competition.
- The Committee successfully organised the Open Challenge for Louis Brown International Client Consultation Competitions (Domestic Rounds).
- The Committee organised an orientation session prior to the NALSAR Client Counselling Selections Rounds, 2020 to ensure maximised exposure.
- The Committee also organised the open challenge for YIMC Lisbon, Portugal 2020.

I) Mess and Hospitality Committee

The Mess Committee for the Academic Year 2019-20 has set out with objectives of ensuring healthier food items on the menu in addition to ensuring a hygienic Dining Hall. In continuation of past practices followed by the Committee, the Mess Committee for this year has relied extensively on student feedback to determine the menu. To that end, regular surveys were conducted in which the student committee had a decisive say in changes to the Mess Menu. Furthermore, the Mess Committee, to ensure accountable usage of the resources it provides to Fest Committees, has instituted an accountability mechanism that requires the detailed submission of the entire expenditure towards the organization of the Fests. The Mess Committee has also been a bridge between the student community and the Mess Contractor, regularly conveying the requests and grievances of the student community. The committee has also continued the practice of funding the distribution of sweets on festivals. The Mess Committee has undertaken green initiatives like discontinuing the usage of disposable paper plates for steel plates. Furthermore, the Committee intends to completely phase out the usage of paper cups for beverages by the end of the academic year 2019-20.

J) Social Responsibility Committee:

The function of the Social Responsibility and Student Welfare Committee has been carved out to help improve and allow smooth access to various kinds of infrastructure facilities and measures that would make their student life comfortable. All the year round, there has been continuous co-ordination with the IT Department of the college to make sure students are able to access Wi-fi and internet facilities. In addition, laptops were bought for to be used by the students, for a temporary period. This was an important addition to the facilities, since many students faced problems, when their laptop would require sudden repairs around the time of examination or assignment submission. Cycles on campus (which are rented out for a nominal amount) were repaired several times and purchase of new cycles from the annual SBC budget was made. Purchase of law textbooks too was done utilising the SBC budget, and distributed to students from various years. Also, efforts are being made to make a book bank of digital copies of the book, to be made available to all students. Clothes collection drive was successfully carried out, for donation of clothes to Goonj Foundation. The NALSAR Legal Aid group successfully carried out its activities for the year, which is partly funded from the SBC budget. College merchandise for the students was made available at subsidised rates. Further, as part of student initiative blood donation drive was conducted in the month of February in collaboration with Aarohi blood bank.

The General Body membership, where students get to participate in the working of the committees on voluntary basis, for all the SBC committees was carried out. In addition, the 'Student-Mentorship' exercise was also carried out, by allocating senior students as mentors to the incoming first year students. Provision was made in the budget to have a separate amount to fund voluntary student run initiatives on campus which is now in the process of allocation.

K) Scholarships Awarded

M) Student Outreach:

NALSAR Litigation & Advocacy Project

NALSAR Litigation & Advocacy Project (NLAP) is a student run initiative, founded by Dayaar Singla, Bhavish Kaki and Vishal Rakhecha working for increasing legal aid and advocating for various social causes since September, 2018. The project has grown to over 10 students and receives guidance from Prof. (Dr.) Faizan Mustafa, Vice-Chancellor, NALSAR in his capacity as the Director of the Project. NLAP assists lawyers with pro bono or public interest litigation by providing assistance in terms of researching and drafting. NLAP's Public Policy vertical works towards creating change through measures that do not involve the judicial arm of the government.

NLAP's Litigation vertical has closely worked with lawyers including Mr. Aman Wadud, in Assam on various cases which deal with the arbitrary decisions of the Foreigners Tribunal, pertaining to the citizenship issue. In collaboration with the well known multinational non-profit iProbono, India run by NALSAR alumni Ms. Swathi Sukumar it released a Foreigners Tribunal Lawyers' Training Module. It is also working with Hyderabad based lawyers on matters of privacy, Aadhar and surveillance.

The Policy vertical, had the honour to be invited to testify before the US Trade Representative (USTR) on the Special 301 Report in Washington D.C. where the Project argued for a better status for India and removal of our country from the Priority Watch List. NLAP also worked on a report with the renowned US based non-profit Avaaz on the issue of fake news and misinformation. The Project has also worked with Save Life Foundation and assisted in research and legal drafting for proposed amendments to the Central Motor Vehicles Rules, 1989. Further, NLAP worked with Legal Initiative for Forest and Environment (LIFE) on creating a database of cases on Biological Diversity Act, 2002 and in preparation of a report on the status of its implementation with special focus on South India.

At NALSAR, we also held a documentary screening for 'Between Hatred and Fear: Surviving Detention in Assam', and held a discussion with Leah Verghese, (NLSIU, Columbia). NLAP is NALSAR's another step towards furthering the University's objectives.

DEVISE- Developing Inclusive Education

Currently, there are 110 volunteers for DEVISE who take turns to conduct English training sessions for the underprivileged children on a regular basis in the villages near Shamirpet. The group established a 'Reading Room' at Zilla Parishad High School, Pudur with around 700 bilingual books (Telugu and English). It also established a Community base for Education (CuBE) in Muneerabad where the volunteers conduct English training sessions regularly after school hours. Nearly 100 children are benefiting from these activities currently.

Legal Aid Group

The NALSAR Legal Aid Group (N-LAG) which has around 45 members, has carried out the following activities during 2019-20 under the leadership of P Avinash Reddy and Benjamin Vanlalvena:

- Prepared a booklet on Panchayti Raj Act for training Sarpanches in Telangana

- Met and contacted stakeholders and persons involved regarding Transgender Persons Rights, in respect of Right to Food, and other laws and policies.

IDIA (Increasing Diversity by Increasing Access)

Beginning this year, the IDIA group at NALSAR conducted more than 200 hours of CLAT coaching classes in the Jan-May period, with the help of numerous volunteers from NALSAR University and also with the support of full-time interns who joined us from other colleges at Sai Junior College for the Visually Challenged. By CLAT 2019, our trainee had been given 525 odd hours of classes. This hard work of the volunteers and interns paid-off, when our trainee at the said Junior College made it to WBNUJS, a premier law college of the country. Another trainee, Akhil, also made us proud by getting selected to National Law University, Orissa. He was being trained by a reputed coaching institute, Career Launcher, which has a training collaboration with IDIA. The training operations were resumed in June 2019, to help the selected trainees prepare for CLAT 2020. The team is currently training eight students to appear in CLAT 2020. Out of these, five have been secured enrollment in Career Launcher. For the remaining three, more than 250 hours of training sessions were conducted with the help of the volunteers from NALSAR University and full-time interns from other law colleges. These trainees come from various social backgrounds, and some of them are also differently-abled. This is in line with the goal of making law schools truly accessible.

These operations of the organization are partially funded from the funds raised through on-campus fundraising programs. The IDIA team at NALSAR University raised more than Rs. 40,000 of funds through various events, conducted with the help of volunteers. Among others, the group conducted 'Bake-Sales', where the in-house student 'chefs' prepared food delicacies, and helped the IDIA group raise upwards of Rs. 10,000. The group also reached the alumni and distinguished legal professionals for support.

The IDIA Group also conducted several sensitization sessions for Class 11 and 12 students at various places some of which are listed below:

1. Don Bosco Navjeevan Society
2. Telangana Social Welfare Residential School, Mulugu
3. Telangana Social Welfare Residential School, Medchal
4. St. Anthony's, Kompally
5. Government Junior College, Mulugu
6. Government High School Cherial
7. Government Residential School Cherial
8. Sai Junior College for Visually Challenged, Secunderabad
