Hence, the mess committee will like to put forth the same:

1. Special Dinner: The Mess Menu now includes a monthly Special Dinner, whereas previously, it was only served once per semester.

These responsibilities, along with others, have been laid down in Article 21 of the Student Bar Council Constitution.

During the year the committee undertook the following major tasks:

Social Sensitization for Batch of 2028 [August] - Members of this Committee who are also a part of the various student informal collectives such as the NALSAR Minorities Forum, Savitribai Intersectional Study Circle (SISC), and the NALSAR Queer Collective in the presence of the ICC Student Elect and Volunteers of CASH held a social sensitization session for the incoming students. The collectives had addressed the students, shared their experiences, and welcomed the students to their collectives.

Scholarship Orientation for Batch of 2028 [July] - A Scholarship Orientation specially for the Batch of 2028 was conducted. The invite of the Orientation was sent to all batches. The Committee explained the Scholarship Regulations, dealt with student concerns regarding the application process for a scholarship, and made the students aware of various scholarship schemes by various state governments and central government.

Mentorship for Batch of 2028 [July] - The SRSWC undertook its annual mentorship program that the committee undertakes. This year there was an increased number of mentors, which were available for the Batch of 2028 to choose from. Upon grievances from the Students from Batch of 2028, the members of the Committee ensured that all mentors reached out to their mentees.

Updated Medical Staff [July] - With the inauguration of the new health centre, the capacity and necessity to have specialist doctors was clear. With the constant efforts of the Committee, Senior physician and diabetologist- Dr. Ashok Kumar, Gynecologist- Dr. B Sweta, Mental Health Counselor- Dr. Shweta Agarwal, Day Duty doctor- Dr. Sarwath Tahseen were hired by the University.

Procurement of equipment, medicines, and other issues related to Health Centre [July] In a productive meeting with the Health Center staff, Vice-Chancellor and the Registrar of NALSAR, these outcomes were agreed to and implemented:

- 5 new wheelchairs procured and stored at the health centre.
- 6 new Crutches and 10 new Ice Packs procured
- The complaints w.r.t. staff attendance were raised, assurance has been given from their end. Doctor along with his family has moved in and is staying in the campus health centre now. Both the doctors have assured their presence as per the duty and they shall anyways be available on call on their day off, if there is any.
- Recurring permission for refilling of First Aid Kits will be obtained where the hostel/SRS reps will only be required to go to the health centre with the kits and will get it refilled without any additional permissions needed.
- Ambulance drivers will be always available - the admin has emphasized on this that they will make sure the driver has a designated spot for the ambulance and is present there 24x7. Moreover, the waiting time for ambulances at city hospitals was negotiated to be increased to 2 hours and the drivers can even stay at the hospitals at critical times beyond 2 hours, with the doctor's permission.
- Lab technicians will now also be on campus on Saturdays.

- All the emergency tests required for dog bites, snakebites are also available in the health centre.

QR codes for medical emergency [July] - In order to ensure safety and quick response to any medical emergencies on campus, the Committee installed Medical Emergency QR Codes at various locations throughout the college premises.

The Medical Emergency QR Code is easily identifiable and you can find it prominently placed on walls and other visible areas around the college including mess, hostels, library, and acad block.

When scanned using any QR Code scanner available on most smartphones, the QR code will redirect you to a webpage containing all the essential details and procedures related to medical emergencies. It contains contact numbers and timings of the University Health Center, doctors, nurses, ambulance drivers, counselors, nearby hospitals and other general advisory.

Scholarship Negotiations [July] - After the Scholarships for the previous year were awarded, the Committee members received multiple grievances from the students that the scholarship awards were lesser than what they would have received as per Schedule I or Schedule II of the Scholarship Regulations. The Committee after prima facie looking into the issue, sent out a Draft Representation, to be sent to the Vice-Chancellor, to all the students inviting inputs from their end. Without collecting personal details of the Student, information regarding scholarships was collected. The committee had then submitted the representation to the Hon'ble VC. As the disbursements were of the previous year and even the budget of the previous year had lapsed by July, the negotiations with the Vice-Chancellor hit a dead end. However, the Committee was successful in negotiating with the Administration regarding an increase in Scholarship Corpus for the upcoming years. The Budget for the current academic year had also been passed.

The Committee had been successful in helping individual requests made by the students to the Vice-Chancellor to pay fee in instalments and remission of fee.

Constitution of Student Scholarship Committee [July-August] - After freshly experiencing the issues and ills related to scholarships first-hand and also realizing the mandate as the Scholarship Regulations, the Committee, in consultation with the AO and the VC, had sent out a call for the Student Scholarship Committee. The Student Scholarship Committee would go a long way in ensuring that the object and purpose of the Scholarship Regulations are met. Prof. Aruna Venkat is the nominated faculty in-charge of the Student Scholarship Committee.

Big Basket Vending Machine Proposal [August] - The committee is in talks with BB Instant to set up vending machines for NALSAR. They have their machines installed in various colleges like NLS, BITS Hyderabad. We have obtained preliminary approval from the VC and are awaiting site inspection from BB to go further with this proposal.

Vacating Asia Book House [August] - After obtaining assent from the student body, the Committee asked the administration to give an eviction notice to Asia Law Book House. The Committee is in the process of looking for outlets for the new empty stall.

Regular Laptop Servicing Camp - The Committee in collaboration with the IT Department and Bhaskar Global Technologies undertakes regular laptop serving camps in order to ensure that the student body has access to such services on an immediate basis and at a subsidized rate even though living far away from the city.

iii) Prison Legal Aid Clinic

The Prison Legal Aid Clinic of NALSAR University of Law focuses on providing legal aid and support to under-trial prisoners and convicts at the Central Jail in Hyderabad. The program entails regular visits to the jail, during which the students and faculty interact with the inmates to identify those in need of legal assistance.

To ensure thorough record-keeping, the team has diligently maintained data from each visit in an Excel sheet, which is regularly updated. In the last semester (June-October 2023), a total of six visits were made to the prison.

During these visits, the team interacted with 173 under-trial prisoners and 77 convicts. Out of the under-trials, 44 individuals required advocates or legal aid, while 13 convicts were provided with copies of their judgments upon their request. Additionally, 26 convicts sought advocates to file appeals on their behalf.

Advocate Vishal, as part of the program, took up seven cases of under-trial prisoners for legal aid and four cases of convicts. These efforts aimed to ensure fair access to justice for those behind bars.

In addition to their work within the jail, the students had the opportunity to interview Justice Kishan Kaul, where they discussed the condition of prisoners in the country and solicited suggestions to improve systemic bottlenecks hindering justice for inmates.

The team also engaged with S. Sasidhar Reddy, the Principal District and Sessions Judge of Ranga Reddy district, Telangana. They raised awareness about the challenges faced by prisoners, such as the non-receipt of bail orders and judgment copies, which restrict their access to information and their ability to file appeals. Their intention was to seek the intervention of relevant authorities to address these issues effectively.

Furthermore, the students volunteered with the District Legal Services Authority to identify eligible under-trial prisoners across 16 courts who qualified for bail according to a 21-point criteria outlined by the Supreme Court. Through their efforts, they identified 120 prisoners, whose trial periods and sentences were taken into consideration for a set-off. As a result, 110 prisoners were successfully released, marking a significant achievement in their quest for justice for prisoners.

Overall, the Access to Justice to Prisoners program at Nalsar, under the guidance of Dr. Murali Karnam, has been actively working towards addressing the legal needs and systemic challenges faced by under-trial prisoners and convicts. Their efforts have encompassed legal aid provision, awareness-raising, and collaboration with authorities, all aimed at ensuring that justice is served to prisoners in a genuine and comprehensive manner.
